The “Joking”

In the video, DoctorRofatnik (Known as Doc) apologizes to the victims for how he treated them in the past and goes on to explain that they were merely jokes that didn’t mean any actual harm. He then proceeds to explain that these haven’t happened in over half a year. First of all, under any circumstances “jokingly” flirting with children, talking about raping them, and other sexual fantasies towards a minor is never an okay joke to make, which Doc acknowledges. (See the other document for more information). Doc also brings up the point that the first victim was making remarks towards other members of the server. However, It doesn't matter if the child was engaging in those behaviors prior to you coming to them. That's irrelevant, what matters is that you engaged back. It doesn't matter if the child was attention-seeking, what matters is that you, the adult, seemed to believe that this child is capable of the same emotional maturity as you. It doesn't matter what the children did, because as adults, it's our responsibility to make the adult decisions necessary to protect these children, no matter how annoying, explicit, or attention-seeking they seem. Didn’t Doc say he stopped once the victims expressed discomfort? That would be alright if it wasn’t a straight-up lie. The first victim has expressed constant discomfort over the years after 2017 when the sexual discussions took place. However Doc among others within his server disregarded their wishes and told the victim that they were no fun, on their period, and just a confused kid going through puberty, making the victim eventually give in because they felt they were being unfair and ruining the fun for everyone. It was not until one of the other victims made it clear to Doc in DMs and publicly to leave the victim alone, he chose to finally stop and make the other members back off. Regardless, on top of that, still showing noticeably passive-aggressive behavior towards the victim, basically degrading them (like saying “you’re not special anymore” or “you’re useless to me now”) or targeting them (usually in VCs) whenever he got the right chance, even after stopping, until the victim finally snapped on him, to which he ignored it, pretended it never happened, and shut up. This was only a month or 2 prior to the victim leaving SEO, to which they became almost completely inactive. Unfortunately, we don't have evidence of this because all instances of this happening were within the now-closed off general channel. You can see another glimpse of Doc not stopping in the third victim's face reveal screenshots in the last document. Doc argued that these jokes have not transpired within the last few months, this is because there was nobody else to make jokes to since the victim had already left the server. Had the victim gave into his toxic behavior after being told to stop, he would have kept going.

Charlie "cwutey" 's Argument

In the video, a developer of Sonic Eclipse Online, Cwutey, came out and told their story of their experience with Doc. They went on to explain that a similar situation akin to the first victim's scenario transpired. They claimed that although they believe what Doc did to the other victims was wrong, they don't believe Doc is a pedophile because he never crossed the line with them personally. This is a fair point, there's absolutely no way we can tell how Doc actually feels and he never did anything illegal like sending nudes or soliciting nudes to the victims. However, we can still infer. No matter how you look at it, these actions were upon those of pedophilic behavior. That's an indisputable fact, having constant sexual fantasy discussions with a child jokingly or not, is pedophilic behavior that should not under ANY CIRCUMSTANCE be okay or defended. Just because he didn't have sexual experiences with him when he was younger, does not discredit what already did happen with the other victims.

Complaint About Not Censoring a Name

In the video, Doc mentioned a complaint wherein our last document a staff member's name wasn't censored. This is a valid point, his name should have been censored, and we apologize for throwing him under the bus. However, he then proceeds to, uncensored, expose multiple members of a private server complaining about the SEO server. This is a very hypocritical statement and completely invalidates the point they tried making. (Timestamp at 23:50)

Making The Victim Look Bad By Stretching The Truth or Lying

At the end of the video, Doc goes on to show the first victim in a bad light. Likely to make himself look better. He first uses the argument that the victim was attention-seeking and made joking sexual remarks towards other members in the server and that this happened before Doc joked with the victim to claim he wasn't grooming. This is a fair argument as you can conclude Doc did not begin normalizing the behavior to the victim. However, he still escalated it further and encouraged this kind of behavior. On top of all this, grooming isn't always a sexual act. He even admits in his video that a lot of this was to fuel his ego. Manipulating people for any sort of benefit like an ego boost is still the act of grooming. A lot of the flirting according to the victim supposedly took place within VCs which we can't confirm so that unfortunately doesn't cut it. However, regardless this doesn't change a single thing. That does not justify what Doc did. Kids will grasp for attention, that's to be expected. There is NO excuse for giving in and discussing sexual desires with a child, even if they initiated it (2017). What happens next, is just a lie. Doc complains that the victim was seeking attention (2020) by pushing him to enforce better rules to prevent toxicity in a server targeted for kids. This included preventing further use of slurs, harassing members, and other vulgar behavior. This was an action the victim took as a Moderator of the Sonic Eclipse Discord Server. Doc then explains that the victim left the server shortly after the reforms took place out of pettiness and a grasp for attention. This simply isn't true, as after the reforms took place, most of the victim's friends left the server. The decision to leave was made by the fact that the server's environment was already taking a toll on them beforehand (hence the toxic environment comment) and their friends leaving the server was the final push to wanting to leave.

The Victim's Friend Tried To Doxx Doc

No, that was an inside joke. The friend in question wasn't trying to dox or gather information on Doc. The joke stemmed from a said friend getting really heated and apparently leaving out of frustration to go "Find Doc" but went to get ice cream instead.

Further Evidence of Victim 1's True Intentions

This entire situation and series of events took quite a toll on Victim 1's mental health. As Doc and others support his claim, they say that the victim is continuously seeking attention by sharing their story and coming forward. Going as far as to say they have ulterior motives. All of which simply, is not true whatsoever. It took a lot of encouragement and convincing from several friends to understand and realize that their experience with Doc was not okay. Even now, they contemplate whether or not it's their fault Doc targeted and harassed them. A simple case of manipulation whether intentional or not. After a while of encouragement from close friends, they decided to share with others who are closer to Doc on a private server. Three times. With three different groups of people. Hearing further encouragement and gaining a greater understanding, they felt more confident about how wrong they were treated. Every now and then when the topic got brought up they would talk with others about it more, which is what Doc and others claim is attention-seeking and that it's constantly brought up because they have an ulterior motive or a grudge. To prove the victim enjoys attention-seeking he provided screenshot “evidence”. First of all, the first screenshot of the victim saying they “craved attention” was an out of context joke. They said to ping them if they need them because they love attention, the joke being that pinging brings attention. Then proceeded to use another screenshot, this one of the victims telling a friend Doc gave them Robux.

07/11/2020

How is that attention-seeking? They were just sharing with their friend. That isn't attention-seeking whatsoever. So tell me, who in the world would go through all the emotional pain and deal with being harassed by multiple members they were close with, just for attention? The only grudge the victim has is clear, how they were treated up until their departure from Sonic Eclipse Online. Here is evidence of the impact Doc had on the victim.

I was not ignoring you.
I know how much you care and as much as I didn't want to be there, I care about you too so I still wanted to cooperate. (edited) and I tried. Trust me.
I kept dwelling on screenshots and old messages for two reasons:
1. I wanted to be upset at him. I wanted enough of a reason to be able to full accept that what he was doing is wrong and I should be cautious and worried. And it did work, after looking through those I feel disgusted and uncomfortable.
2. I wanted to see your reactions and hear perception of it. Keep in mind, never until now has anyone tried to make it abundantly clear to me that this is wrong and fucked up and I always thought it was nothing but good fun.
And then you kept telling me to knock it off with the old messages and to listen to you. That put pressure on me because I was trying to make what you were saying meaningful and I already had no idea how to respond. I didn't know how to say that at the time.
I keep constantly dwelling on things he's done in the past or does now to begin with simply to hear your perception of it.
Never before did I fully consider that it's wrong and that the way he defends it is a process of manipulation that was working on me.
so hearing this knew perception both and is relieving and insanely scary.
as you can tell my feelings keep changing because I don't know what to believe.

An adult man shouldnt be making those comments towards an underage girl, joke or not.
I'm gonna be honest with you, I think you really need to put your foot down and tell him you are uncomfortable with this stuff. Don't let him wave it off or excuse it or blame it on puberty.

For both your sake and his
You should really tell him to stop those jokes
If he won't respect your wishes then he's not a very good friend.

It's not that big of a deal to me
He'll listen if I tell him to stop but it's pointless

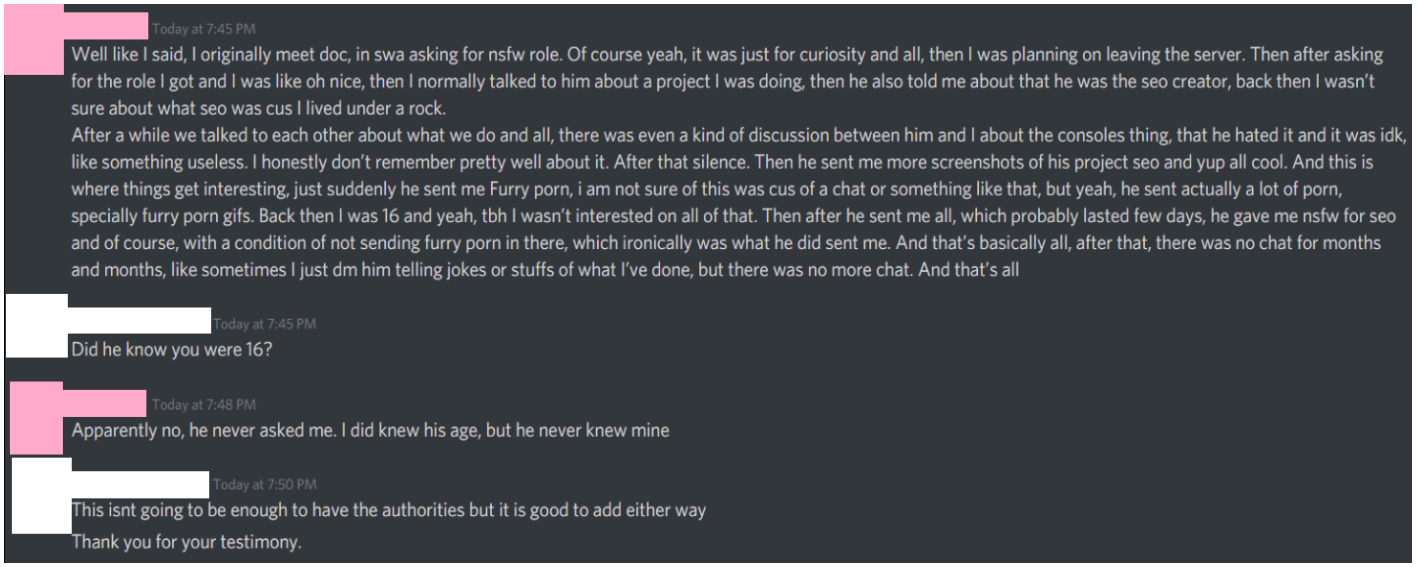
In the server

More examples of friends trying to inform the victim of Doc's actions not being okay, only for the victim to still have doubts, way before the victim even acknowledged the severity. A clear sign of manipulation.

(Also to note, this document was not written by the first victim as many have speculated.)

Further Evidence of Illegal Activity

The evidence I am about to show has resurfaced to us after the last document was posted. I apologize if it seems like we were withholding evidence, but the truth is we didn't learn about this information until after the fact. So we can show it now and expand the last document as well. The person we're showing off is someone Doc used to randomly send porn to. Their testimony will be put below. The person Doc was sharing with was 16 Years Old, however, Doc wasn't aware of said person's age, as he never asked. Proves how little he cares about who he sends NSFW content to.



Today at 7:45 PM
Well like I said, I originally meet doc, in swa asking for nsfw role. Of course yeah, it was just for curiosity and all, then I was planning on leaving the server. Then after asking for the role I got and I was like oh nice, then I normally talked to him about a project I was doing, then he also told me about that he was the seo creator, back then I wasn't sure about what seo was cus I lived under a rock.
After a while we talked to each other about what we do and all, there was even a kind of discussion between him and I about the consoles thing, that he hated it and it was idk, like something useless. I honestly don't remember pretty well about it. After that silence. Then he sent me more screenshots of his project seo and yup all cool. And this is where things get interesting, just suddenly he sent me Furry porn, i am not sure of this was cus of a chat or something like that, but yeah, he sent actually a lot of porn, specially furry porn gifs. Back then I was 16 and yeah, tbh I wasn't interested on all of that. Then after he sent me all, which probably lasted few days, he gave me nsfw for seo and of course, with a condition of not sending furry porn in there, which ironically was what he did sent me. And that's basically all, after that, there was no chat for months and months, like sometimes I just dm him telling jokes or stuffs of what I've done, but there was no more chat. And that's all
Did he know you were 16?
Today at 7:48 PM
Apparently no, he never asked me. I did knew his age, but he never knew mine
Today at 7:50 PM
This isnt going to be enough to have the authorities but it is good to add either way
Thank you for your testimony.

Message @Alive Inside Mephiles

You can argue that the “jokes” with the other victims are perfectly legal and okay. However, there’s no excuse for sharing pornographic material to a minor. Doc is a resident in California, whereby law is not acceptable.

If you are accused of giving porn to a minor, Wallin & Klarich can help.

California Penal Code Section 313 defines harmful matter as images or descriptions of sexual conduct. It must lack serious artistic, political, or scientific value in order to be considered harmful. [3] The images or descriptions can be in the form of:

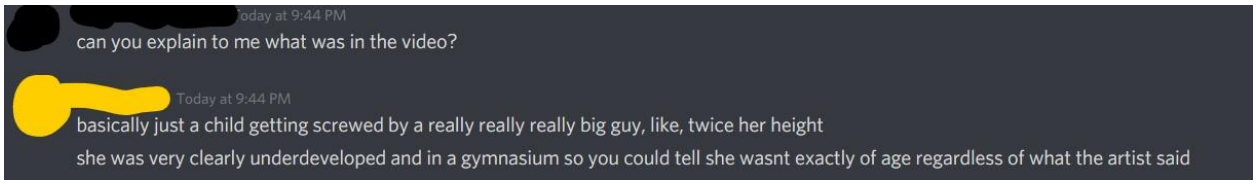
- Books;
- Magazines;
- Newspapers;
- Pictures;
- Drawings;
- Movies; or
- Other forms of recorded video. [4]

The law specifically says that knowingly giving a minor any, "harmful matter that depicts (anyone) engaging in sexual conduct" is a violation of Penal Code Section 288.2 [5] It is illegal to send porn to a minor through any means, including:

- Physical delivery;
- Electronic communication (including the Internet);
- Or in person. [6]

There was also another minor he sent pornographic material to who came forward after the release of the first document. This time far worse as he sent a 3D model child porn animation to a minor. A video of a cartoon female who had the appearance of a minor, which was likely intentional, having sexual intercourse with a larger adult male.

https://discordapp.com/channels/@me/537840417689829386/568219631819423760 (Message Link to the Video)



oday at 9:44 PM
can you explain to me what was in the video?
Today at 9:44 PM
basically just a child getting screwed by a really really really big guy, like, twice her height she was very clearly underdeveloped and in a gymnasium so you could tell she wasnt exactly of age regardless of what the artist said

Despite this being a 3D Model video of a minor having intercourse, it is still legally defined under child pornographic material (albeit admittedly is a grey area), and not only that, Doc knowingly sent this video to a minor which is illegal regardless.

Today at 10:09 PM
was he aware of you being a minor beforehand sending you that
Today at 10:09 PM
yes i'm pretty sure i'd told him my age at at least some point
Today at 10:10 PM

this is all i have at the time he sent it i was 16 since it was march/april of 2019 but i'd known doc since 2018 so i'm pretty sure he knew i told him in the discord or something, it used to be on my twitter as well

As I mentioned previously, we were not aware of this information until after the initial document was posted and will be updating the said document with the newly resurfaced information.

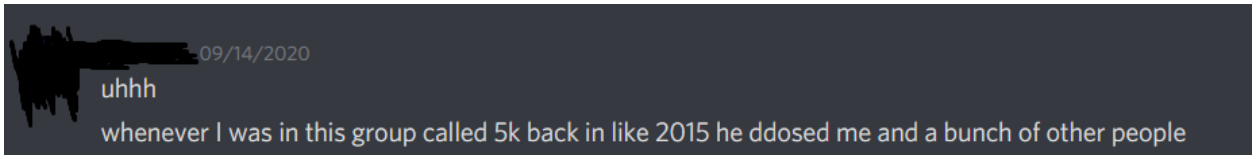
On top of this, Doc has knowingly given minors access to the NSFW channel in his server. Others even informed him that this behavior wasn't okay and he simply responded with "I don't care". He even gave access when they didn't ask for it as you can see here from the first victim.

12 Year Old given access to the NSFW chat without asking.

Extra Smaller Points Before Jumping Into SEO

Reason to Anonymity

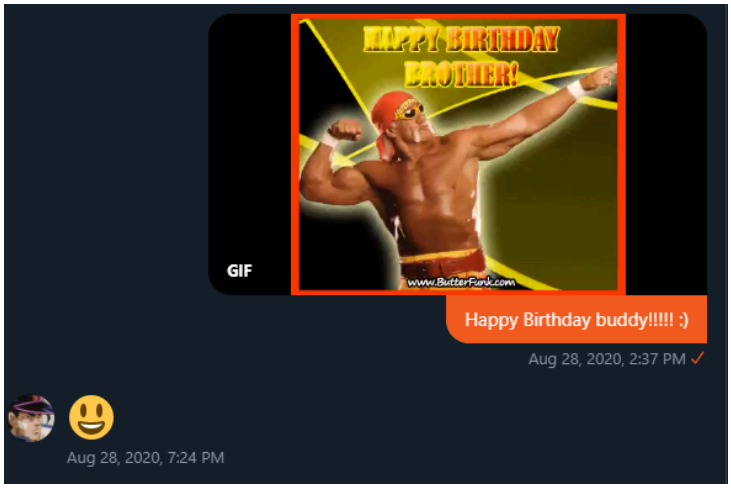
Yes, it's true that one of the reasons we decided to stay anonymous is to avoid doxxing from Doc. But it doesn't mean people won't still try to harass us and try to doxx us separately. But you also claiming that you only doxx terrible people simply isn't factual.



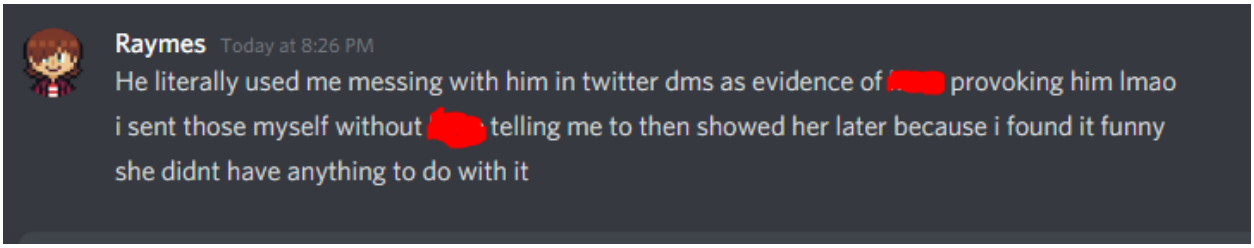
On top of that, the victims never said they wanted to stay anonymous because of doxxing, like Doc claimed they did. Literally nobody ever said that. Only WE wanted to stay anonymous for that reason.

The Victim Further Provoked Him

In Doc's response video, he claimed at the end that the first victim harassed Doc after leaving SEO because of a grudge and for attention. The only two instances he provided were when their boyfriend dmed him on twitter saying happy birthday and a gif with Mario saying "I've fucking had it with you" after the document released.



Both of these didn't have anything to do with the victim as the boyfriend admitted to doing it on his own terms because he found it funny.



Raymes Today at 8:26 PM
He literally used me messing with him in twitter dms as evidence of [redacted] provoking him lmao i sent those myself without [redacted] telling me to then showed her later because i found it funny she didnt have anything to do with it

The other instance of the victim provoking Doc was when they sent him a video of a troll song. This was a dare by the boyfriend. They also blocked him immediately after so they wouldn't hear anything else from him. It was still unnecessary but it wasn't any grasp for attention by the victim nor any grudge.

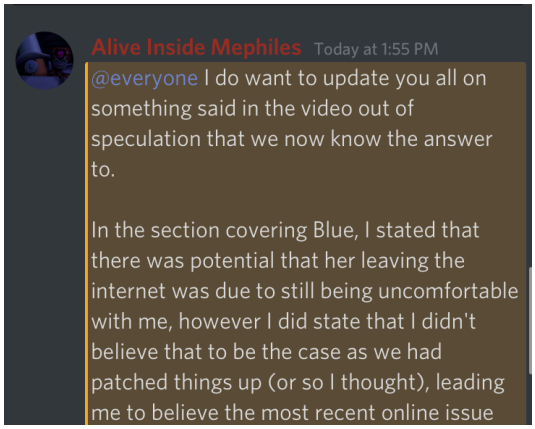
Took Screenshots of An Archived Channel

Within the video, Doc uses evidence from the now-closed off general-chat. He uses this to discredit the victim by calling them out for making sexual remarks towards other people (though, those screenshots do not really prove anything). The funny thing is that a lot of the evidence that we didn't have access to is locked behind this archived channel. Such as the victim being harassed by not just Doc but other members with Doc x Victim jokes and the victim asking people to stop. Only for Doc to complain about them having "ulterior motives" and not actually taking the situation seriously. He also had a habit of twisting things into his favor like instances of the victim asking him why Doc no longer talks to them, just to turn it into "why don't you joke with me anymore?". This was not an instance of the victim not being able to make up their mind on the jokes, but rather, wondering why Doc no longer talked to them, and why they couldn't just be normal friends without joking around.

Update On Victim 3

Wasn't sure whether this should be mentioned or not, since it was properly handled but decided to include it anyway to keep everyone on the same page. I won't go into much detail on this situation because Doc had already admitted and made a post about this apologizing. I can respect this and I'm glad some light was shed and some form of a resolution was made.



Alive Inside Mephiles Today at 1:55 PM
@everyone I do want to update you all on something said in the video out of speculation that we now know the answer to.
In the section covering Blue, I stated that there was potential that her leaving the internet was due to still being uncomfortable with me, however I did state that I didn't believe that to be the case as we had patched things up (or so I thought), leading me to believe the most recent online issue speculation that we now know the answer to.

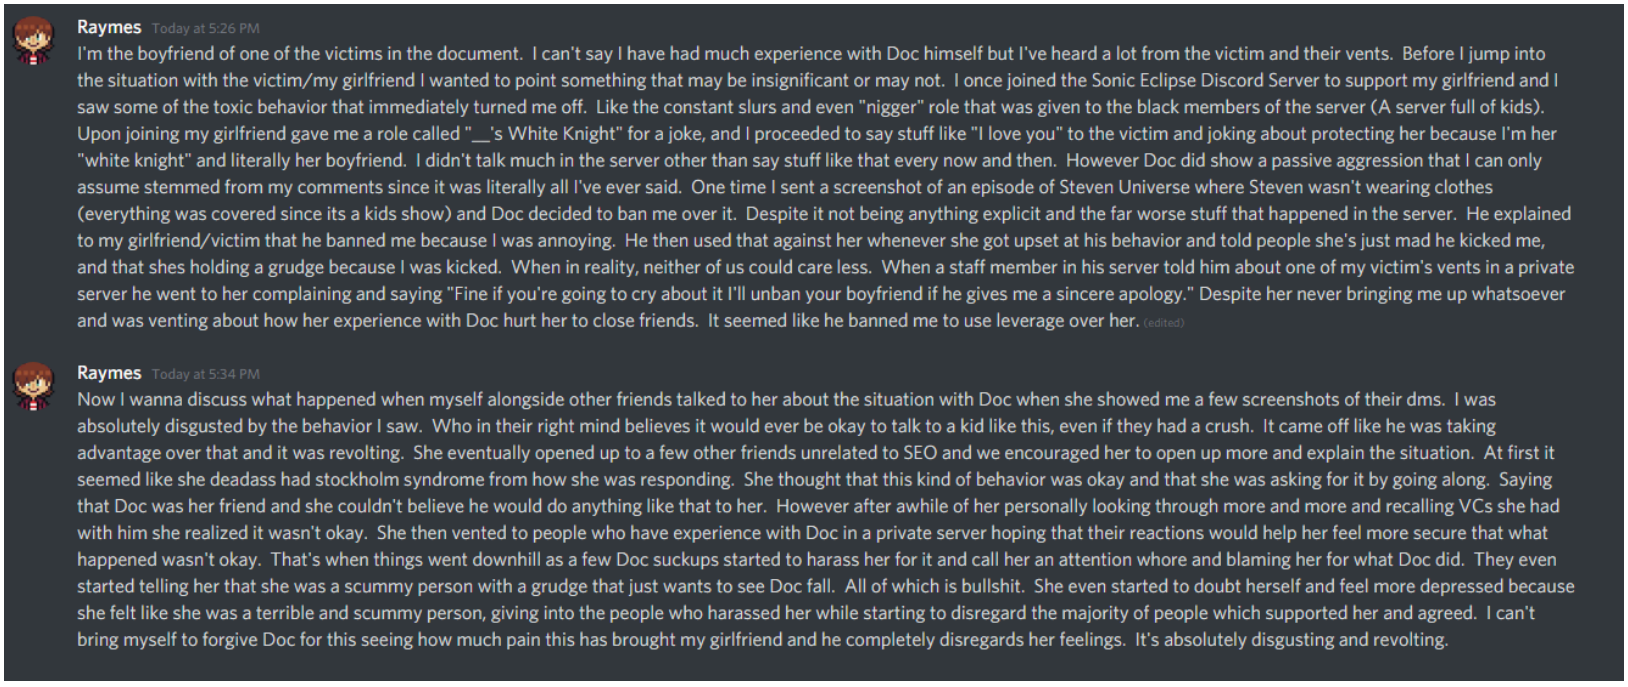
In the section covering Blue, I stated that there was potential that her leaving the internet was due to still being uncomfortable with me, however I did state that I didn't believe that to be the case as we had patched things up (or so I thought), leading me to believe the most recent online issue she had with BravenwolfTFS was the cause.
It turns out I was wrong, and I'd like to apologize to Braven for that.
I'd also like to apologize again to Blue for making her feel uncomfortable.
I know it's unlikely, but I eventually would like to talk to her again sometime in the future.

Fake Dislike Botting and Deleting Responses To Discredit Us

- Dislikes cannot remove likes.
- The victims and document writers aren't so petty as to pay for dislikes or dislike bomb their adversary's response.
- Dislike bot response is baseless.
- You do not have any concrete proof of anyone dislike botting, and it’d be the same if we were to say you like botted.
- The video “proof” doesn’t mean anything as it’s clear the likes were taken away and given to the dislikes to try proving a point, again, likes cannot be taken away by dislike botting.
- Responses to the Document’s Tweet were never deleted. Examples used of us supposedly deleting tweets were said to be deleted by the author, not us.
- These were just cheap tactics to attempt discrediting us with no actual basis to them.

Testimonies From Third Parties

Two Close Friends of Victim 1 Explaining Their Experience With The Victim and Doc's Behavior



Raymes Today at 5:26 PM

I'm the boyfriend of one of the victims in the document. I can't say I have had much experience with Doc himself but I've heard a lot from the victim and their vents. Before I jump into the situation with the victim/my girlfriend I wanted to point something that may be insignificant or may not. I once joined the Sonic Eclipse Discord Server to support my girlfriend and I saw some of the toxic behavior that immediately turned me off. Like the constant slurs and even "nigger" role that was given to the black members of the server (A server full of kids). Upon joining my girlfriend gave me a role called "__'s White Knight" for a joke, and I proceeded to say stuff like "I love you" to the victim and joking about protecting her because I'm her "white knight" and literally her boyfriend. I didn't talk much in the server other than say stuff like that every now and then. However Doc did show a passive aggression that I can only assume stemmed from my comments since it was literally all I've ever said. One time I sent a screenshot of an episode of Steven Universe where Steven wasn't wearing clothes (everything was covered since its a kids show) and Doc decided to ban me over it. Despite it not being anything explicit and the far worse stuff that happened in the server. He explained to my girlfriend/victim that he banned me because I was annoying. He then used that against her whenever she got upset at his behavior and told people she's just mad he kicked me, and that shes holding a grudge because I was kicked. When in reality, neither of us could care less. When a staff member in his server told him about one of my victim's vents in a private server he went to her complaining and saying "Fine if you're going to cry about it I'll unban your boyfriend if he gives me a sincere apology." Despite her never bringing me up whatsoever and was venting about how her experience with Doc hurt her to close friends. It seemed like he banned me to use leverage over her. (edited)

Raymes Today at 5:34 PM

Now I wanna discuss what happened when myself alongside other friends talked to her about the situation with Doc when she showed me a few screenshots of their dms. I was absolutely disgusted by the behavior I saw. Who in their right mind believes it would ever be okay to talk to a kid like this, even if they had a crush. It came off like he was taking advantage over that and it was revolting. She eventually opened up to a few other friends unrelated to SEO and we encouraged her to open up more and explain the situation. At first it seemed like she deadass had stockholm syndrome from how she was responding. She thought that this kind of behavior was okay and that she was asking for it by going along. Saying that Doc was her friend and she couldn't believe he would do anything like that to her. However after awhile of her personally looking through more and more and recalling VCs she had with him she realized it wasn't okay. She then vented to people who have experience with Doc in a private server hoping that their reactions would help her feel more secure that what happened wasn't okay. That's when things went downhill as a few Doc suckups started to harass her for it and call her an attention whore and blaming her for what Doc did. They even started telling her that she was a scummy person with a grudge that just wants to see Doc fall. All of which is bullshit. She even started to doubt herself and feel more depressed because she felt like she was a terrible and scummy person, giving into the people who harassed her while starting to disregard the majority of people which supported her and agreed. I can't bring myself to forgive Doc for this seeing how much pain this has brought my girlfriend and he completely disregards her feelings. It's absolutely disgusting and revolting.

Earlier this week I was asked to give my personal testimony of my experience with Doc/Jadon; so here it is. I'll keep all of my experience objective to what's happened and hold any opinions of the situation until the end of the testimony.

My first time hearing about Jadon was when one of the victims - who I hold a very dear friend - spoke about a friend of theirs and some of the "jokes" that they've made to her. At first I didn't think much of them except for the fact that I was put off by them. I really just assumed it was some horny 14 year old sending these messages to the aforementioned victim - who I'll refer to as my friend from now on. The more this friend of hers was mentioned in passing, though, the more I became curious to who they actually were, so I finally asked. My friend was very clearly uncomfortable with going into details at the time - as she would be for some time - but she did mention her friends age. I was very surprised to hear that the person sending her these messages was an adult, so much so that at first I wanted believe her friend to just be lying about their age. Continuing, my friend spoke in length about how the conversations they had would make her feel dirty and/or guilty, but that the people in the community as well as Jadon encouraged it. I very quickly told her that none of this was okay from any standpoint, ironic or literal, and that from what I'd heard it sounded even illegal at some points.
A small amount of time passed, she closed up about the entire situation and became even more uncomfortable with speaking about it, but I understood that for her to overcome she had to speak about it; so I encouraged her to be open with all that had happened; which in time she did.
I am not exaggerating when I say that the more information I found out about Jadon and the messages, the sexual innuendos, the rape jokes, and overall - what some would call and I consider - grooming, I was stunned.
Continuing the timeline, more time passed and conversations happened between myself, my friend and her boyfriend. Myself and her boyfriend both understood the severity of this and pushed for her to distance herself from the complete toxicity that was taking place in this community, as well as what had been taking place in her dms for years. She was very hesitant, though; I mean it had been a community that she'd been in for years, which she was popular in and had friendships in since a young age as well; I'm sure anybody reading this could understand the difficulty in just walking away from something like that. For a while she even defended Jadon to the point where she acted as if he was infallible, and that she in fact was the person in the wrong for just telling the truth. It was almost like Stockholm Syndrome to an extent. Finally, though; after weeks of venting and conversation, she began to see the truth without the rose colored glasses of naivety which she had on from such a young age. My friend began to move away from the community and speak up, which the community replied to with various insults and manipulative techniques to convince her that she was scummy, or childish, some of this manipulation even coming from Jadon himself from what I've seen while in the server and from screenshots (For example publicly humiliating my friend to an extent, deleting messages she sent saying that this or that wasn't okay, or trying to convince her of things by removing her administrative roles in the server she moderated for him for things said in dms; which in fairness was his right, but it was very clearly done to get an emotional response from her.).
Regardless of all of this, though; she finally made the difficult choice and moved away. I encouraged her and the people that I'd found out were also potentially being groomed to open up about this and reveal the truth, but they didn't feel like they were able at the time: clearly until now.
That is my entire timeline, sans my personal opinions, and now I'll open up about my personal feelings on the subject. Jadon is an adult, making a game for a majority minor audience- something that he has chosen to do himself and instead of choosing to be a good influence upon his audience, this is what he's done by his own hand. Ironic or not, what's happened, the dm's which I'm sure everyone has seen, the sex talk to minors, it's abhorrent, it's not okay, at times it was flat out borderline illegal, and there's no defense for it - I think even Jadon himself understands that now.

I'd ask that everyone reading this would look at the situation from an unbiased and literal perspective, distancing themselves from either side of any stupid argument or debate; I think anyone who does that will come to the same conclusion; and thank you for your time reading this.

In closing- Jadon, if you're by chance reading this, I don't know your past, I don't know how you were raised or what's brought you to this point, but I hope to an extent the truth being released has set you free, with full knowledge that everyone on this earth has to pay for their actions - whether one believes through karma or through God - I sincerely hope that this exposition has given you a chance to look through everything you've done and that you've bettered yourself for it, and found whatever root inside of you has pushed you towards this fate. However all of this ends, I wish you the best a person that has seen what you've done can wish you.

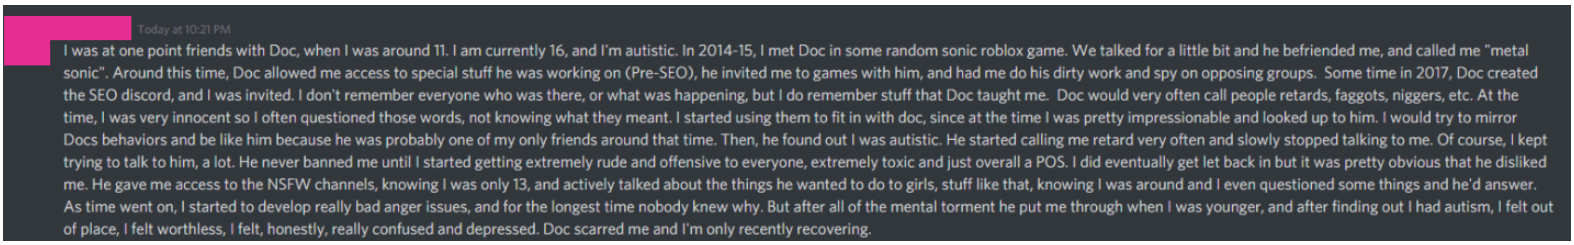
If anybody has any questions for me or would like to tell me something, I'll be leaving my dms open at Lukewarm#6113.
I'll leave them open for however long people send me dm's that aren't cussing me out or spamming me profusely.

Members of SEO's First-Hand Experience With Doc and The Victims

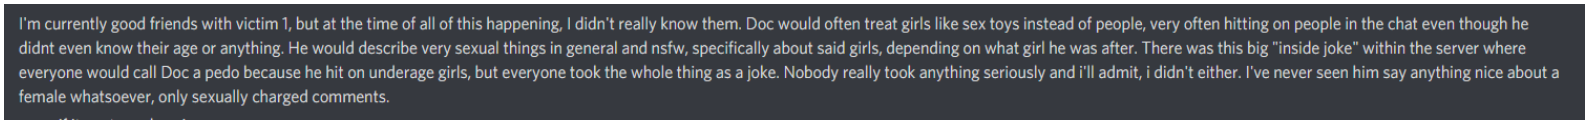
[redacted] Today at 9:46 PM

I am a good friend of one of the victims featured in the document. Like testimonies before me I can't say I super personally know Doc. However, before my time of leaving, I was one of the topmost active users in the Sonic Eclipse discord. In my time I became highly acquainted with the majority of members there, including victim number 1, who I became proper acquaintances with at the beginning of 2020. I have held witness to many dramatic situations involving Victim 1 and Doc, even becoming involved in some. Ever since becoming friends with the victim, I also bared witness to an extensive backlog of their past with Doc, featuring all conversations included in the document, and much, much more.
Said situations included the victim having their boyfriend's banning used to misrepresent them, and the victim having their own chest size being ridiculed by the large majority of online members in the sonic eclipse server, despite being a 14 YEAR OLD WOMAN.
Unfortunately I no longer have visual evidence of these situations, as they are featured in the now locked off archived General channel, in SEO.
Situations I learned about from the victim directly included the large backlog of paedophilic, private conversations the victim gained the courage to show to a small group of people.
These conversations included talk of rape, "IRL meetups", sexual roleplay, corruption of innocence, face reveals, "kitten", kink-based punishment, molestation, etcetera etcetera.

While I may never have had personal contact with Doc outside of game-related business, It's still worthwhile that I point out each and every one of these situations, comedic intent or not, are invalid and revolting, and shouldn't be excused.

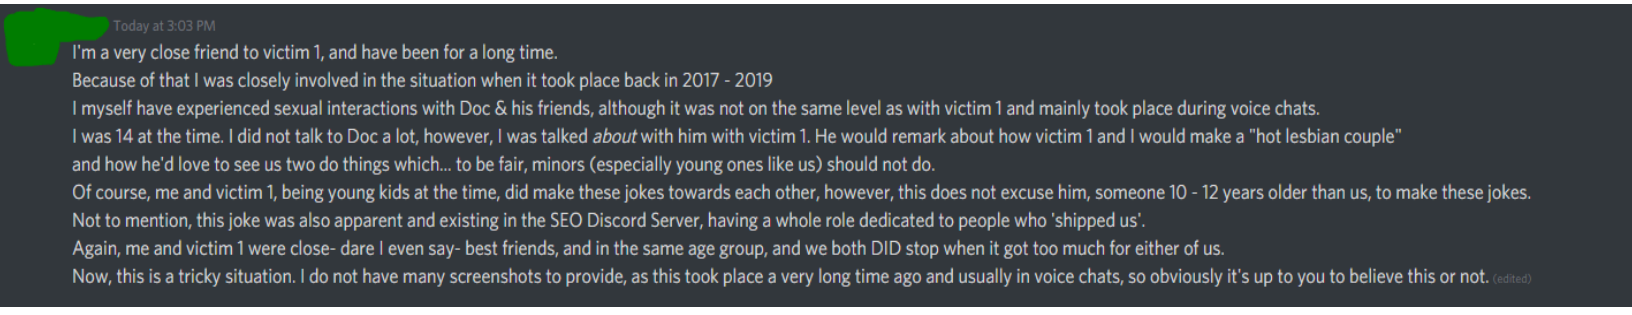


Today at 10:21 PM
I was at one point friends with Doc, when I was around 11. I am currently 16, and I'm autistic. In 2014-15, I met Doc in some random sonic roblox game. We talked for a little bit and he befriended me, and called me "metal sonic". Around this time, Doc allowed me access to special stuff he was working on (Pre-SEO), he invited me to games with him, and had me do his dirty work and spy on opposing groups. Some time in 2017, Doc created the SEO discord, and I was invited. I don't remember everyone who was there, or what was happening, but I do remember stuff that Doc taught me. Doc would very often call people retards, faggots, niggers, etc. At the time, I was very innocent so I often questioned those words, not knowing what they meant. I started using them to fit in with doc, since at the time I was pretty impressionable and looked up to him. I would try to mirror Docs behaviors and be like him because he was probably one of my only friends around that time. Then, he found out I was autistic. He started calling me retard very often and slowly stopped talking to me. Of course, I kept trying to talk to him, a lot. He never banned me until I started getting extremely rude and offensive to everyone, extremely toxic and just overall a POS. I did eventually get let back in but it was pretty obvious that he disliked me. He gave me access to the NSFW channels, knowing I was only 13, and actively talked about the things he wanted to do to girls, stuff like that, knowing I was around and I even questioned some things and he'd answer. As time went on, I started to develop really bad anger issues, and for the longest time nobody knew why. But after all of the mental torment he put me through when I was younger, and after finding out I had autism, I felt out of place, I felt worthless, I felt, honestly, really confused and depressed. Doc scarred me and I'm only recently recovering.



I'm currently good friends with victim 1, but at the time of all of this happening, I didn't really know them. Doc would often treat girls like sex toys instead of people, very often hitting on people in the chat even though he didnt even know their age or anything. He would describe very sexual things in general and nsfw, specifically about said girls, depending on what girl he was after. There was this big "inside joke" within the server where everyone would call Doc a pedo because he hit on underage girls, but everyone took the whole thing as a joke. Nobody really took anything seriously and i'll admit, i didn't either. I've never seen him say anything nice about a female whatsoever, only sexually charged comments.

Another Close Friend/Victim Who Experienced a Similar Experience With Doc



Today at 3:03 PM
I'm a very close friend to victim 1, and have been for a long time.
Because of that I was closely involved in the situation when it took place back in 2017 - 2019
I myself have experienced sexual interactions with Doc & his friends, although it was not on the same level as with victim 1 and mainly took place during voice chats.
I was 14 at the time. I did not talk to Doc a lot, however, I was talked about with him with victim 1. He would remark about how victim 1 and I would make a "hot lesbian couple" and how he'd love to see us two do things which... to be fair, minors (especially young ones like us) should not do.
Of course, me and victim 1, being young kids at the time, did make these jokes towards each other, however, this does not excuse him, someone 10 - 12 years older than us, to make these jokes.
Not to mention, this joke was also apparent and existing in the SEO Discord Server, having a whole role dedicated to people who 'shipped us'.
Again, me and victim 1 were close- dare I even say- best friends, and in the same age group, and we both DID stop when it got too much for either of us.
Now, this is a tricky situation. I do not have many screenshots to provide, as this took place a very long time ago and usually in voice chats, so obviously it's up to you to believe this or not. (edited)

I don't see how it's dumb, BLM is a group of people pushing to stop oppression that doesn't exist
It's Okay to be White is literally just a statement made to piss people off who are racist towards whites.

Dead Inside Myfeels @NotJeterRBLX · 15. Juni
For Systemic Racism to exist, there would have to be laws within that system that are racist.
Which now that I think about it, there are.
Affirmative Action gives minorities a leg up over whites, that's about all I can see about system racism.

When you are shoving your IGNORANT and TRANSPHOBIC opinion down transgender people and trans supporters' throats, you are being TRANSPHOBIC and OPPRESSIVE. The same goes for your claims on BLM and vice versa.

Free speech is not hate speech.

SEO LEAKS and “Ulterior Motives”

The argument that this document was done out of spite and “Ulterior Motives” is not true. Yes, we leaked SEO Assets but it wasn’t out of spite. It was my mistake to not put a reason why we leaked it which gave you the opportunity to overstretch the remark and make us look bad on your response.

SEO is nothing more than a cash grab scam with EA levels of monetization on its simulator. Regardless if its main point of the game is the story mode or if its to play the “fundraiser” simulator, on its group page where you can buy access to the demos of what the game has to offer so far.

- As discussed in Roblox Terms of Use, you cannot (and you cannot allow others) sell, trade or give away Robux, digital goods or game codes except through official channels on Roblox platform. For example, you cannot conduct such transactions through chat, Roblox Groups, or third-party apps or websites. You also cannot buy or sell Roblox games or Groups.

colbert2677 Community Editor — Jan 31

Every single response here is inaccurate and incorrect; only BanTech's is somewhat accurate and that's only starting after "your friend should've known about the Patreon".

Roblox explicitly does not allow Patreon rewards because the exchange of funds is directly between two parties and Roblox cannot guarantee that players get what they pay for. Whether it is your intention or not, this classified as a scam. See the discussion thread about use of Patreon for more information, which also has a moderator response.

This brings me to my next point. Monetizing a “Fangame” meaning a game made by fans of a franchise using their Intellectual Property is illegal. And pulling the argument that “other Roblox games do it, why go after mine?”

Buy/Download Content

A final option is to license content from rights holders. It is also very important that you comply with the terms of the license you receive in order to use the content. Many licenses only allow content to be used for personal, non-commercial purposes, so you need to make sure you can use it on Roblox. Also, there may be some content you license that requires additional permission before you use it, such as a photograph of a person. In that case, you would need permission or a license from both the person owning the photograph and the person appearing in it.

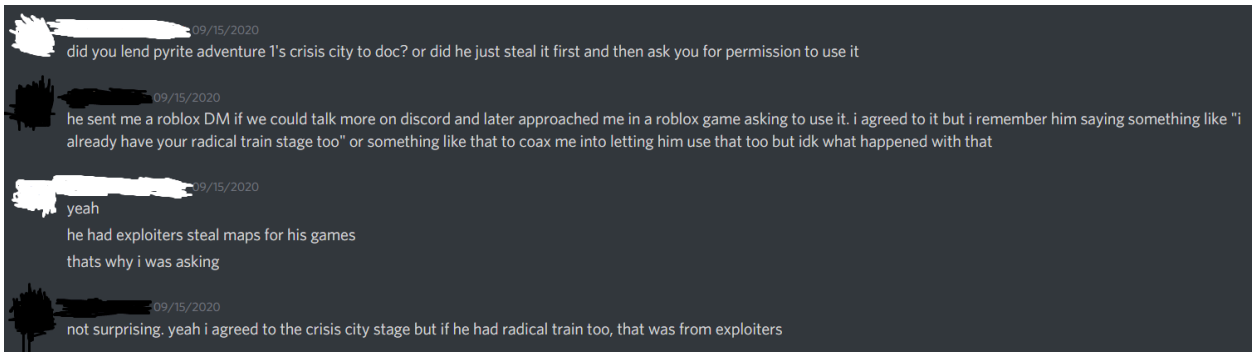
Well yes, a lot of Roblox games do indeed do the same exact thing you’re doing but not to the extent of literally having a Patreon to “reward” your Patrons for exclusive skins in your game. Your game is nothing but illegal use of Sega’s Intellectual Property no matter how you put it.

You promise story mode to those who buy access to your game yet you never update them for 3 years? Sure you post teasers, but you never even take the time to look at your Writer’s script for the story. THE SCRIPT FOR THE STORY, your game is nothing but a scam.

When you pull the excuse that the development is meant to stay private, you're wasting the money of 400 people.

And the source code leak was just done to prove the point that every corner of the game is riddled with monetization to take advantage of the children playing your game.

Stolen Assets being used



[redacted] 09/15/2020
did you lend pyrite adventure 1's crisis city to doc? or did he just steal it first and then ask you for permission to use it [redacted] 09/15/2020
he sent me a roblox DM if we could talk more on discord and later approached me in a roblox game asking to use it. i agreed to it but i remember him saying something like "i already have your radical train stage too" or something like that to coax me into letting him use that too but idk what happened with that [redacted] 09/15/2020
yeah
he had exploiters steal maps for his games thats why i was asking [redacted] 09/15/2020
not surprising. yeah i agreed to the crisis city stage but if he had radical train too, that was from exploiters

Doc had stolen assets to use in his simulator game, and the new map that they are supposedly adding is stolen as well. Their tech demo is a modified map from another sonic fangame called Pyrite Adventure which was given with permission but they had also stolen another map from Pyrite Adventure being Radical Train, which was never released. How could they have gotten the assets? The answer is simple. Exploiters, he has a team with exploiters to steal assets for his bidding. So essentially he is using stolen assets and profiting off them.

Patreon Rebrand to Cover up Tracks

We recently discovered that they rebranded their Patreon to cover up their tracks after being stormed by a huge group of people calling them out for their illegal activities, to try and lower the damage.

Degrading his Staff, Overworking them, and Underpaying

While he does all this he also has a history of degrading and treating his staff poorly. Although claiming to earn 70k a year he underpays them or chooses to not even pay them at all. Below is a conversation I had with one of their ex-staff.

and he's almost 30 years old too that's so embarassing

[redacted] 09/15/2020

to do like 5 things all at the same time and expected him to be getting it done constantly at a constant rate always

then will shit on him and get everyone on the server to shit on him and degrade him

09/15/2020
i don't know how SEO is still operating

09/15/2020 like he went through multiple breakdowns
he burnt him out
several times
like i absolutely DESPISE him he would have also make like 5 high quality models and render models and ask him to have it done in under a week and when he didnt
he would literally call him lazy and degrade him further he only started paying until later same with and only got 400 robux worth of usd

09/15/2020
WHAT.

09/15/2020
even though he always brags about how he gains 2k monthly

09/15/2020
working with him is a nightmare

He can claim he “helped” him all he wants but it doesn’t excuse his poor behavior for his staff. And the thousands of hours you put them through just to be made the laughing stock of your little community.

I digress.
